INSTRUCTIONS

1. Unpackage your new headphones and check for the L and R side marks.

2. Insert the USB cable to your computer, system will automatically detect your headphones.

3. Adjust the headset volume on the volume control.

4. In case when the headset can't be automatically identified, you need to set it as default manually.

CAUTION

CAUTION: Please use the headset with a moderate volume to avoid possible hearing damage.

Do try to pull wire out of the headphones, that may cause the damage.

Don't pull headphone extension too much, to avoid damage to headphone structure.

Be careful with audio input to the headphones, if input signal is too strong that may cause the damage to headphones speakers.

ATTENTION: Product specifications and design may vary due improvement process and adjustments can be made without further notice.
